1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. INTRODUCTION

3 On October 24, 2024, this Court granted preliminary approval to the settlement
4 (“Settlement”) in this case. 10/24/2024 Order Preliminarily Approving Class Action Settlement 5 (“Preliminary Approval Order”) at 2. The Court also approved the proposed forms of notice, the 6 claim form, procedures for objections and opt-outs, and the plan for the dissemination of the notice 7 directly to Class Members. See Preliminary Approval Order at 3-6. The Court also set a final 8 approval hearing for April 2, 2025 at 1:30 p.m. Id. at 7. As discussed in the settlement 9 administrator’s declaration (“Montague Decl.”), notice has been effectuated pursuant to the Court’s 10 instructions (though the claims period has yet to expire). To date, the response from Class 11 Members has been overwhelmingly positive. Plaintiff Anne Moulton (“Plaintiff” or “Class 12 Representative”) now seeks an order granting final approval of the Settlement and entry of 13 judgment.

14 The Settlement provides substantial relief to Class Members and merits final approval by 15 this Court. It has a total cash settlement value of $3,000,000 to compensate Class Members, to pay 16 for the costs of notice and administration of the Settlement, to reimburse Class Counsel’s 17 attorneys’ fees, costs and expenses, and to provide an incentive award to Plaintiff. Under the terms 18 of the Settlement, Defendants United Dominion Realty, L.P. and UDR, Inc. (“UDR” or 19 “Defendants”) (together with Plaintiff, the “Parties”), in consideration of the release of the Class’s 20 claims challenging the Late Fees, will provide the following benefits:

- 21 1) Pay Class Members a pro rata share of the total number of Late Fees paid by Class 22 Members from August 12, 2017, through October 24, 2024 (the “Settlement Class 23 Period”). Current Tenants of UDR will automatically be paid via check without having 24 to submit a Claim Form unless they elect another method of payment by submitting a 25 Claim Form. Former Tenants of UDR who submit a valid Claim Form will receive 26 payment via their preferred payment method. Fisher Decl. Exhibit 1, Settlement 27 Agreement (“Settlement”), § III(A)(8)-(9). Because the deadline to file claims has not 28

1 yet passed, it is too early to tell precisely how many Class Members will ultimately 2 submit claims. See Montague Decl. ¶ 18;

- 3 2) Pay the costs of Notice and Administration, which is presently estimated at $67,561.
4 Montague Decl. ¶ 19. The notice includes direct notice via e-mail to current and former 5 Tenants. See Settlement, § IV.F.
- 6 3) Pay Class Counsel’s attorneys’ fees in an amount up to $1,000,000 as well as their costs 7 and expenses of $27,804.47, subject to court approval. Settlement, § III.A(6);
- 8 4) Pay an incentive awards to Plaintiff in an amount of up to $5,000 subject to court 9 approval. Id. at § III.A(7); and
- 10 5) Funds for checks not cashed within 180 days of issuance shall revert to a mutually 11 agreed upon 501(c)(3) entity,<sup>3</sup> pursuant to the cy pres doctrine and California Code of 12 Civil Procedure section 384.

13 The Settlement has the overwhelming approval of the Class Members. To date, only one 14 person has opted out of the Settlement because they had not been charged late fees and thus were 15 not a Class Member. The Court should grant Plaintiff’s motion for final approval.

16 II. PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

17 A. Litigation And Discovery

18 This is a putative class action challenging the Late Fees that UDR charges its residential 19 Tenants for late rental payments. Plaintiff sought to represent a class of all current and former 20 UDR Tenants who paid Late Fees since August 12, 2017 through the date of entry of the 21 Preliminary Approval Order. The imposed Late Fees range between $100 - $110, depending on 22 the UDR property. Plaintiff’s operative complaint alleges that UDR’s imposition of these Late 23 Fees are unlawful penalties under Civil Code § 1671, which deems liquidated damages for 24 <sup>3</sup> The Parties have agreed upon either Tenant’s Together (<https://www.tenantstogether.org/>) or 25 Legal Aid of California (<https://www.laaconline.org/>). Both are 501(c)(3) nonprofits. Tenant’s 26 Together is a statewide coalition of local tenant organizations dedicated to defending and 27 advancing the rights of California tenants to safe, decent, and affordable housing. Legal Aid of 28 California is the statewide membership organization of legal services nonprofits that provide critical legal assistance to low-income Californians and ensure equal access to justice. Both organizations largely serve many of the Class Members in this case.

1 residential leases as “void” absent evidence that those charges were “impracticable or extremely 2 difficult to fix.” See Cal. Civ. Code § 1671(d).

3 Plaintiff filed her original complaint on August 12, 2021, alleging, inter alia, violations of:
4 California Civil Code Section 1671(d), California Civil Code § 1750, et seq., and Cal. Bus. & Prof.
5 Code § 17200 et seq. In March 2022, the Court overruled Defendants’ demurrer based on the 6 contention that Plaintiff could only bring claims against Rancho Cucamonga, L.P., one of many 7 wholly owned subsidiaries of UDR. The Court nonetheless granted Plaintiff leave to amend to add 8 UDR Inc. and DOES 1-100, inclusive. Plaintiff filed her First Amended Complaint on July 5, 9 2022, adding the additional UDR Defendants, which is the current operative complaint.

10 Defendants filed their answer to Plaintiff’s complaint on September 19, 2022, denying the 11 complaint’s key allegations and raising numerous defenses. Shortly thereafter, the parties engaged 12 in extensive formal discovery, including six document productions by Defendants and a person 13 most knowledge deposition of Defendants. During this period, the parties also engaged in 14 settlement discussions, and attended two full days of mediation with Jill R. Sperber, Esq., of 15 Judicate West, with the first session occurring on September 27, 2023, and the subsequent session 16 taking place on January 18, 2024. Fisher Decl., ¶ 4. After the second mediation, the parties were 17 able to reach an agreement in principle and executed a term sheet on January 18, 2024 setting out 18 the material terms of the Settlement. Id.

19 B. Preliminary Approval Of The Settlement

20 The Parties finalized their Stipulation of Settlement on May 17, 2024, and Plaintiff initially 21 moved for preliminary approval on May 24, 2024. On October 2, 2024, the Parties attended a 22 hearing regarding preliminary approval during which the Court inquired on the qualifications and 23 the quote of the proposed administrator, and the proposed cy pres recipient. The Court granted 24 preliminary approval on October 24, 2024.

25 III. THE COURT SHOULD GRANT FINAL APPROVAL OF THE SETTLEMENT

26 A. The Applicable Legal Standards

27 A class action settlement requires court approval after notice to the class members. Malibu 28

1 Outrigger Bd. of Governors v. Sup. Court (1980) 103 Cal.App.3d 573, 578; Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e).<sup>4</sup>

2 California has a well-established and strong policy in favor of the settlement of litigation.
3 Stambaugh v. Superior Court (1976) 62 Cal.App.3d 231, 236; Hamilton v. Oakland Sch. Dist.
4 (1933) 219 Cal. 322, 329; Cent. & W. Basin Water Replenishment Dist. v. S. Cal. Water Co. (2003)
5 109 Cal.App.4th 891, 912.<sup>5</sup> Settlement is particularly favored in class actions, given the costs and 6 uncertainties inherent in complex litigation. See 7-Eleven Owners for Fair Franchising v.
7 Southland Corp. (2000) 85 Cal.App.4th 1135, 1152 (“the risks of maintaining class action status
8 and pursuing judgment through trial would have been large”); Bell v. Am. Title Ins. Co. (1991) 226 9 Cal.App.3d 1589, 1607 (noting California’s “strong public policy in favor of settlement of class 10 actions”); Class Plaintiffs v. City of Seattle (9th Cir. 1992) 955 F.2d 1268, 1276, cert. denied, 506 11 U.S. 953 (1992) (“strong judicial policy ... favors settlements, particularly where complex class 12 action litigation is concerned”); Rubenstein, 4 Newberg on Class Actions (5th ed. 2013) § 13.44 13 (“The law favors settlement, particularly in class actions and other complex cases where substantial 14 resources can be conserved by avoiding lengthy trials and appeals.”).

15 Whether a class action settlement should receive final approval is committed to the broad 16 discretion of the trial court. Mallick v. Superior Court (1979) 89 Cal.App.3d 434, 438 (“the trial 17 court has broad powers to determine whether a proposed settlement in a class action is fair”). The 18 purpose of the final approval hearing is not, however, to rework a settlement that is the result of 19 complex and hard-fought negotiations. Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc. (2001) 91 Cal.App.4th 20 224, 246 (“the proposed settlement is not to be judged against a hypothetical or speculative 21 measure of what might have been achieved had plaintiffs prevailed at trial.”).

22 When the settlement results from arm’s length bargaining by experienced counsel who 23 performed sufficient discovery, and the percentage of objectors is small, there is a “presumption of 24 fairness.” Dunk v. Ford Motor Company (1996) 48 Cal.App.4th 1794, 1801. That presumption

25 _____
26 <sup>4</sup> In resolving issues relating to class actions, California courts frequently look to Rule 23 of the 27 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, and to federal cases decided thereunder, for guidance. Green v.
28 Obledo (1981) 29 Cal.3d 126; Vasquez v. Superior Court (1971) 4 Cal.3d 800, 821.#

1 was summarized as follows by the First District Court of Appeal in In re Microsoft I-V Cases
2 (2006) 135 Cal.App.4th 706, 723:

3 At the same time, the trial court should give “[d]ue regard ... to what is otherwise a 4 private consensual agreement between the parties.” Such regard limits its inquiry 5 “to the extent necessary to reach a reasoned judgment that the agreement is not the 6 product of fraud or overreaching by, or collusion between, the negotiating parties, 7 and that the settlement, taken as a whole, is fair, reasonable and adequate to all 8 concerned.” The trial court operates under a presumption of fairness when the 9 settlement is the result of arm’s-length negotiation, investigation and discovery that 10 are sufficient to permit counsel and the court to act intelligently, counsel are 11 experienced in similar litigation, and the percentage of objectors is small.

12 On final approval, a number of factors may be relevant to a determination that a settlement 13 is “fair, adequate and reasonable,” including:

14 the strength of plaintiffs’ case, the risk, expense, complexity and likely duration of 15 further litigation, ... the amount offered in settlement, the extent of discovery 16 completed and the stage of the proceedings, the experience and views of counsel, ...
17 and the reaction of the class members to the proposed settlement.

18 Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1801.

19 As explained below, the Settlement Agreement before the Court amply satisfies these 20 standards.

21 B. The Proposed Settlement Is Fair, Adequate, And Reasonable

22 1. The Settlement Is Entitled To A Presumption Of Fairness

23 As noted in Microsoft I-V, proposed class action settlements are presumed fair where the 24 settlement is the result of arm’s-length negotiation, discovery has been sufficient, counsel are 25 experienced in similar litigation, and the percentage of objectors is small. 135 Cal.App.4th at 723; 26 see also Cellphone Termination Fee Cases (2010) 186 Cal.App.4th 1380, 1389. Each of those 27 criteria is met here. Therefore, when the Court reviews the settlement, it should begin with a 28 presumption that the settlement is fair, adequate and reasonable.

a. The Settlement Was The Result Of Arm’s Length Negotiations

Here, the Settlement was the result of arm’s length negotiations under the aegis of a distinguished and experienced mediator, Jill R. Sperber, Esq., of Judicate West. The adversarial nature of the settlement negotiations is underscored by the fact that the Parties engaged in two full

1 days of mediation—the first on September 27, 2023, and the second on January 18, 2024—that 2 culminated in the execution of a settlement term sheet. Fisher Decl. ¶ 4. The final Settlement was 3 reached after nearly three years of hard-fought litigation and months of arm’s-length negotiations 4 through mediation. Fisher Decl. ¶ 4.

5 b. The Settlement Was Negotiated After Litigation And Sufficient 6 Discovery

7 The Settlement was negotiated after the parties had completed significant discovery that 8 included 13 document requests, 17 interrogatories, and six document productions by Defendant.
9 See id. ¶ 16. Plaintiff also deposed Defendants’ PMQ witnesses. Id. Thus, the Parties negotiated 10 the Settlement with full knowledge of the total damages in this case, as well as the strengths and 11 weaknesses of their own case and that of their adversaries.

12 c. Counsel Are Experienced In Similar Litigation

13 As demonstrated by their firm resumes submitted herewith, Class Counsel have extensive 14 experience representing plaintiff classes in consumer litigation. Ex. 2 to the Fisher Decl. and Ex. 1 15 to the Gucovschi Decl.

16 d. The Class Response Has Been Overwhelmingly Positive

17 As discussed above, although Notice of the Settlement has already been provided in full 18 (including the Reminder Notice), there has, to date, been only one “opt-out” out and no objections 19 to the Settlement. Montague Decl. ¶ 16. The absence of objections also “raises a strong 20 presumption that the terms of a proposed class settlement action are favorable to the class 21 members.” In re Omnivision Techs, Inc. (N.D. Cal. 2008) 559 F. Supp. 2d 1038, 1043 (approving 22 class settlement where the court “received objections from 3 out of 57,630 potential Class 23 Members”); see also 7-Eleven Owners for Fair Franchising v. Southland Corp. (2000) 85 Cal.
24 App. 4th 1135, 1144 (affirming settlement with 80 opt-outs and 9 objections out of 5,500 class 25 members); Churchill Village LLC v. Gen. Elec. (9th Cir. 2004) 361 F.3d 566, 577 (affirming 26 settlement with 45 objections out of 90,000 notices sent).

1 the appellate process. The nature and scope of the relief obtained in the Settlement plainly 2 supports final approval.

3 Under the terms of the Settlement, Plaintiff estimates that there will be approximately $1.9
4 million available for distribution to the Settlement Class after reimbursement of costs and incentive
5 awards.<sup>6</sup> Plaintiff faced significant risk as the case moved forward. Though Plaintiff had defeated 6 Defendants' demurrer to the complaint, Plaintiff had not yet filed a motion for class certification.
7 In addition, Defendants indicated that they intended to file a motion for summary judgment.
8 Defendants also sought to limit the class to only those tenants in the apartment complex in Rancho 9 Cucamonga where Plaintiff Moulton lived. If Defendants had prevailed on that argument, the size 10 of the class would have been dramatically reduced. Furthermore, Defendants sought to offset any 11 recovery for Plaintiff and the class by seeking the recovery of its costs to collect late payments 12 from its tenants. Defendants indicated that those offsets likely exceeded the amount of the late fees 13 collected during the class period. By settling, Plaintiff avoids those risks as well as the risk of trial 14 and an appeal and ensures a recovery for all class members.

15 b. Stage Of The Proceedings

16 This Settlement was negotiated after hard-fought litigation and comprehensive discovery, 17 including a deposition. This factor also supports final approval.

18 c. Experienced Class Counsel Recommend Approval Of The 19 Settlement

20 The Settlement is also fully supported and recommended by experienced Class Counsel, 21 who have vigorously prosecuted the case here. Class Counsel have carefully gauged the risks 22 involved with this case and are in the best position to evaluate those risks at this stage of the 23 litigation. See 7-Eleven, 85 Cal. App. 4th at 1152; Lyons v. Marrud, Inc. (S.D.N.Y. June 6, 1972)

9 d. The Settlement Enjoys The Support Of The Class Members

10 As discussed above, the Notice Administrator provided notice to 36,005 Class Members.
11 See Montague Decl. ¶ 6. However, to date, no Class Members have objected and only one person 12 has sought to be excluded from the Settlement. Id. ¶¶ 16. Such nominal opposition to the 13 Settlement is a strong indication that the Class overwhelmingly supports the Settlement and favors 14 approval of it as fair. See 7-Eleven, 85 Cal. App. 4th at 1153. The Court should grant final 15 approval to the Settlement.

16 IV. CONCLUSION

17 The Settlement in this matter is fair, adequate, and reasonable. Plaintiff therefore requests 18 that this Court grant final approval and enter judgment on the forms submitted herewith.
